Patentability Search Summary

Search Phase

- We locate references relevant to whether your invention is eligible for patent protection.
- We find relevant references by searching patent databases in the United States Patent & Trademark Office.
- Our search methodology utilizes keyword searching and classification code searching.

Analysis Phase

- We study in detail the references uncovered in the Search Phase to determine how much patent protection is likely available for your invention.
- The analysis draws from controlling patent law under 35 U.S.C. § 101 et. seq., court decisions, and Patent Office regulations.

Communication Phase

- We report our patentability opinion to you in clear and concise terms.
- Our patentability opinion will help you to evaluate the economic value of a patent for your invention.
